

Find Becoming Realtor.com Professional Search in August!

Find  will become Realtor.com Professional Search on RMLSweb in mid-August! RMLS™ subscribers may already have noticed clicking a Find button in RMLSweb takes them to the new site, which has a completely refreshed look and feel.

Using Realtor.com Professional Search, RMLS™ subscribers can perform a property search nationwide with unfettered access to active listing data including community and demographic information, school reports, activity trends, and more.

As part of this transition, Realtor.com trainer Michael McCall will offer in-person trainings to RMLS™ subscribers August 13-15 in Portland, Vancouver, and Lane County, with multiple sessions available at each location.

Register for Realtor.com Professional Search Training with Michael McCall.

In each one-hour training session, attendees will learn how to access and navigate Realtor.com Professional Search, how to conduct and utilize advanced searches, how to quickly target properties for clients, and how to pull extensive community and demographic information. Trainers will walk through map overlay options, commute time calculators, and other tools that will help RMLS™ subscribers improve their productivity and service to clients.

Hit the ground running with Realtor.com Professional Search by learning from the experts—register for one of these training opportunities today!